ME, YOU & US!

Theme: Identity—Getting to know others

Me, You & Us is an engaging motivational experience designed to give students a straightforward look at how we classify, categorize and label one another. This experience of music and media focuses on the attitudes that lead to build up cliques, tear down confidence, and bullying behaviors. It's an invitation to look beneath the surface and see Me, You & US as we are and can be.

Me, You & Us will examine the choices we make each day that are based on what we see or at least what we think we see. Students will be encouraged to look beyond the surface, consider others' feelings and with kindness and caring seek to end bullying and help others feel welcome and accepted for who they are on the inside.

Me, You & Us will motivate students to:

- ◆ Discover and develop their unique talents and abilities.
- ◆ Be willing to encourage and help others be themselves.
- ◆ Be a positive voice and help those who feel bullied or excluded.
- ◆ Challenge them to work together with others to succeed and achieve success.

Me, You & Us will help students recognize that what we see in other people is mostly the result of what we decide to look at. If we only look at the surface, well, we'll live on the surface. But if we take the time to look a little deeper, to really listen to what people are really saying, to understand their point of view, and get to know them, we can and will be able to truly be Me, You & Us!
